What Are Industrial Visits and Why Industrial Visits Are Important?

Industrial visits are tours to manufacturing, production or business sites. They can be for a short duration of time lasting for just a few hours in a day, to long tours spreading over a few days. The objectives of industrial visits are to establish a link between theory taught in a classroom and actual practical concepts. The importance of industrial visits for college students cannot be undermined. Industrial visits contribute to the holistic learning development of students.
